OFFICE NOTE.

SUBJECT. Complaint by the Jahgirdar of Kandanur, nanganad Taluk about certain irregularities alleged to have been committed at the time of the sale of toddy vend farms of his inam villages for 1895–96.

LAST REFERENCE. Letter No. 6244 dated 8th February 95 & No 266 1496 by 1578 1595 from the Excise Commr in Mysore

Rama Rao, the Jahgirdar complained in his petition dated 28th June 95 to the following effect:—

(1) that, in disposing of the toddy vend farms of his inam villages for 1895–96, he was not consulted beforehand.

(2) that Darkhasts for larger sums were ignored & the contract given to the previous year's farmer for the same rental as in the previous year.

(3) that Darkhasts for higher amounts were actually presented to him by Commr

(4) that the toddy shop at Mandankalli inam village was abolished to the prejudice of the toddy revenue of his Inam villages.

The petition was referred to the Excise Commr for report, and in the correspondence submitted the Dy Commr Mysore Distt said that due publicity was given to the sale by beat of drum as well as by free distribution of notifications that the petitioners statement that darkhasts were received for larger sums was not true and that the shop at Mandankalli village was ordered to be abolished on the representation made by the neighbouring toddy vend farmers for 1895-96 to the effect that they sustained heavy loss owing to the establishment of the shop in question for the first time in 1894-95.

As the above information was rather incomplete, the Excise Commr was again asked to submit a detailed report with a request that the petitioner should be called upon to substantiate the assertion that darkhasts for larger sums were actually received by the then Dy Commr.

In the detailed reports received with the Excise Commr's letter under disposal, the Dy Commr, Mysore Distt states that that no Darkhasts for larger sums were received by the Rev Dy Commr at the time of sale, which fact is well borne out by the depositions given by Soobrayagois, the agent of the Inamdar himself.

The only question then left for consideration is the abolition of the toddy shop at Mandarhalli one of the Inam villages. From the correspondence now received no definite information is available as to the existence of the toddy shop in question prior to 1894-95. The Excise Commr states that the shop does not seem to have been in continuous existence during the days of the late Contractors & submits for orders of Govt the question as to whether the Inamdar is not entitled to any compensation on account of the abolition of the shop, under the terms of the sanad which concede to the Inamdar the "items of Sayer & toddy."

Put up a draft calling for the Dy Commr's orders for the closing of the Shop & other papers connected therewith

Memo continued.

As per above order the Excise Commr was requested to obtain & submit the Dy Commr's order directing the abolition of the Mannahalli toddy shop in 1895-96, & in reply, ~~the~~ the (the Excise Commr) forwards for information the letter received from the Dy Commr, Mysore, in which it is stated that no written order of the Dy Commr (Mr. Ranganami Iyengar) abolishing the shop in question is forthcoming among the records of his office except the following ~~entries~~ in information on the point in question :—

(1) In the original sale list for 1895-96 no reference whatever is made to Mannahalli Shop.

(2) In an authenticated draft-statement of shops of the Nanjangud Taluk for 1895-96, the name of Mannahalli shop is mentioned with a remark ~~against it~~ that it is abolished

The Deputy Commissioner, Mysore, also makes a reference to the authenticated ~~out~~ fair copy of the Statement sent to the Excise Commr., for further information but the latter in his letter under disposal states that no mention is made of the Mannahalli shop in the statement referred to by the Dy. Commr.

The above information does not help the disposal of the question under reference.

The question for decision is whether the Inamdar is entitled to any compensation ~~as~~ suggested by the Excise Commr. on account of his shop having been abolished. ~~by~~ ~~the Dy.~~ In the correspondence received with the Excise Commr's letter no. 1954/174 dt 24th October/95 the Dy. Commr., Mysore, stated that on the representation made ~~to the former Dy. Commr.~~ (~~Mr. Ranganathaiah Devapur~~) by the neighbouring toddy vend farmers at the time of sale for 1895-96 to the effect that there was no shop

S. no 8.

at Mannahalli & that they suffered a great loss by the introduction of a shop there in 1894-95, the shop in question was abolished in 1895-96 under the orders of the then Dy. Commr.
(Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar). In
the subsequent correspondence
on the matter, the Dy. Commr., Mysore stated, that when the ~~sho~~ toddy contract for the whole district was given out (note apparently before 1890), Mannahalli shop
was not included in the contract, that prior to 1892-93 (two previous years probably) the shop was rented out to the Heggeddevankote taluk contractor.
In 1893-94, it was found by the Amildar of Nanjanpud, that the shop ~~in~~ in question was opened without a license for which the delinquent was punished
The shop was licensed to be opened as ~~application~~ in 1894-95 on an application made; and ~~lastly~~ in 1895-96, on the representation
made by the Heggeddevankote taluk contractor & the ~~Mysore~~
shop keepers of the Mysore
taluk that they suffered loss owing to the establishment of the shop at Mannahalli, that the sale of the shop was not effected. The above information re the existence of the shop was put by the Excise Commr in his letter dated 18th February 18 in a brief way - that the shop did not appear to have been in continuous existence during the days of the late Contractors. That the shop was abolished in 1895-96 under orders of the Dy Commr on the grievances made by the neighbouring Vend farmers, is also clear from the correspondence. Under these circumstances, the question for settlement is whether the Inamdar is entitled to any, and if so, to what Compensation

(note no information is also furnished as to the amount realized in the shop in any year)

Upon one of the Forest villages of Mannohalli - and that on referring to the present Dy. Sir,

With reference to your docket No. 6081/239, dated the 8th January 1897, calling for information on certain points connected with the complaint of Ráma Ráo, Jahágirdár of Kanenur and other villages in the Nanjangud Táluk, regarding certain irregularities in the sale of toddy farms of his Inám villages for 1895-96, I have the honor to to state that the Amildár of the Nanjangúd Táluk reports that no higher bid than Rs. 194-7-u was received on behalf of the Jahágirdár, while the sale was being conducted by Mr. Rangaswámi Iyengár, the then Deputy Commissioner. One Subba-raya Jois, a representative of the Jahágirdár, was examined by the Amildár, and in his statement (to be found in the file) he has clearly asserted that nobody came forward to bid at the proper time.

2. During the years prior to 1892-93, the Manahalli shop was rented out to the Hegga-dadévankoté Táluk contractor

When the Shéndi of the whole District was rented out to only one contractor, this shop was not included included in the contract. In 1893-94, it was found by the Amildár that the shop in question had been opened without a license having been first obtained for the same, and the party was therefore criminally prosecuted and punished. In 1894-95, one Veera applied for a license to open the shop at Hanahalli, which was granted. But in 1895-96, on the complaint of loss made by the toddy contractor of Heggadadévankoté, and the shopkeepers of the Mysore Táluk, it was ordered that the sale of the shop should not be effected.

From this statement it is evident that the original Darkhásts were returned to the Darkhástdárs, as the Darkhásts were received long after the toddy leases of the Nanjangúd Táluk were settled for 1895–96, and that they (the original Darkhásts) are not forthcoming in the Jahágirdár's office.

2. From the statement it also appears that the Jahágirdár
